ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

China Slate is working towards ISO 14001 to help control and minimise its environmental impact. Our slate production does not employ any chemical processes.

COMMITMENT TO...

Traditional Skills

KEEPING TRADITION ALIVE

Slate production in China still uses mainly traditional methods, utilising minimal machinery and relying on a large labour force to produce a hand finished quality product.

Quality

QUALITY GUARANTEE

China Slate's investment in training provides an ongoing commitment to customer satisfaction and quality. Each crate is individually numbered and tracked. We are also ISO 9001 accredited.

a Sustainable Future

SUSTAINABLE FUTURE, ETHICAL FAIR TRADE AGREEMENTS

When quarrying, once the usable material has been removed, the unused slate is returned to the quarry and surrounding land. The landscape is then reinstated with vegetation under local government supervision. We invest much time and effort in training and educating the local people how to quarry and the importance of protecting the environment.
